

Katrina Survivors

WE WANT TO HEAR FROM PEOPLE WHO HAVE A DISABILITY OR WHO HAVE DIABETES

Are you someone who or do you know someone who:

- Has a disability or has diabetes?
- Is 23 years of age or older and evacuated from southern Louisiana after Katrina?
- Would be willing to participate in our research study and share their story about their lives before, during and after the storm?

We are doing research to study the impact of Hurricane Katrina on people with disabilities or diabetes. We are collecting information on the barriers and disruptions they experienced in their lives, the strategies they used to reestablish their lives and their disaster-related needs as they recovered from Hurricane Katrina. Participants will be asked to spend from 30-90 minutes on the telephone or face-to-face answering survey questions and will receive financial compensation for their time.

Center on Disability and Development at Texas A & M University and the
ILRU Program at TIRR Memorial Hermann

Dr. Laura Stough and Richard Petty
Co-Principal Investigators

To sign up for this study or for more information, call

1-866-578-4366