

Data Collection Software for CILs

The following is a list of software which is produced for data collection and reporting in CILs. Software providers are encouraged to provide the IL-NET with information about their software so that it may be posted on this page. Neither ILRU, NCIL nor IL-NET endorse any data collection and preparation software. This is for informational purposes and users should evaluate software carefully to ensure that it will meet their needs.

CFAL Client

CFAL Client and its companion NetCIL applications were created for the Louisville Center for Accessible Living in 1999. Since then, the applications have been expanded and are now in use by a variety of agencies throughout the United States.
